EDITORIAL COMMENT

Nothing of an unusual local news interest being at hand this week, we shall take some time and devote some space to matters seen, heard and felt in the every-day lives of our people. Hence the above headline.

At this time there is no other question that is creating more interest and often agitation than that of meeting tax obligations. In the matter every person from the baby-in-arms to the ones tottering with age have a deep and abiding interest. This is true because paying out money for taxes reaches right into the vitals of the home and effects all in the home. To own a home and possess property is almost a divine right, and lightly as we may think about it, civilization has its fangs, rudders and keels laid in this right. Without the home, really the one owned and supervised by parents and families, there can be, or soon would not be, any vestige of civilization left. Burdensome taxes, too high for human endeavors to meet, eat into, eat out, the heart of the home and thus blast the happiness and contentment of our people. It has always seemed so unreasonable to me for the county and state to impose such burdens on their property holders as to destroy their business and in due time be forced to take over the property to themselves, thus for probably years to come to lose all the revenue they might have collected had the property taxes been in reach of the taxpayer. Let me suppose that some corporation bores and sucks the life-blood out of some concern with its heavy charges, and that concern is forced to close down. Does that look like a good business policy? It often happens and the golden egg stops falling. Isn't a small egg, anyhow, better than no egg at all? Now, listen, the life-blood of Letcher county is at stake and our citizens, the hope of civilization, must gird on their armor and go straight after their rights. The sense of justice must not be imperiled nor must there be any surrender. To pay taxes is a noble, inspiring and patriotic duty and every good citizen is glad and willing to do so. But when men can't they can't. Don't kill the goose that lays the egg that supports the nation, state, county and town.

Is it war? War! Not that horrible thing that has so often thrown its poisoned harpoons into human hearts and gave the lie to civilization and Christianity. No, let me emphasize here, we are too near the awful holocaust which the militarists brought to us just a few years ago. Young America, if not old America, learned too much in that struggle to soon go to arms again with a yellow, self-aspiring, semi-civilized nation. We think, we might have thought the same in 1914 about Germany, that Japan has any idea that she could go to war with the rest, or almost the rest, of the world. In our humble opinion, the thing for the people to do now is to curb their fears and go on earnestly struggling to keep that desperately hungry wolf from the door. If that Quaker President and those in charge of our ship of state can't steer it through the dangerous waters that now make us so uneasy, we'll just throw them overboard and hire a new crew. We are patriotic to the core; we are for the government of the United States above every nation on earth, but when it comes to washing the dirty linen of a yellow, Sino-Chinese cosmography, paraphrasing Mr. Coolidge, we refuse to fight.

In the human diction where brains, manhood and stamina hold preponderance, there is no such word as fail. True as this is, there is no such word in the Kingdom Come Settlement School on Linefork. Axes, saws, mauls, handspikes, brains and sinews make a happy combination over there right now. They (See page four)

WISE COUNTY CITIZEN PASSES

At his old home near old Bond's Mill, on the south fork of Pound River in Wise county, 77, son of late Jesse Bolling, passed to his reward. He leaves eleven living children to mourn his loss and the following brothers: Joseph, William, Boyd and James Bolling, and one living sister, Cinda Mullins, the mother of Burl and Watson Mullins of our town. Jerry Bolling was a fine citizen, loved and honored by all who knew him. The remains were interred in the old Jesse Bolling graveyard near where he was born and reared. He had been a widower for about four years.

OUR DAUGHTER ILL

We are sad to state that Mrs. W. L. Bartley, daughter of the editor and Mrs. N. M. Webb, is dangerously ill at the home of her parents on Main street.

Weather like mid-spring still predominates, and farmers are beginning to take thought of planting time. Well, but it's early in February yet.

OSCALOOSA NEWS

Miss Rena Halcomb of Whitesburg visited at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Ison, over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brashear are the proud parents of a new born girl, and named it Arizona.

Manus Ison of Linefork visited Louvilla Ison through the week-end.

Misses Ollie and Milda Gilly were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Astor Caudill on Saturday night. Mrs. Charlie Caudill is very ill at her home.

Elbert Jones spent the week-end at Whitesburg, and reported a nice time.

Kile Frazier, who is attending school at Whitesburg, visited his parent over the week-end.

Miss Cuba Frazier spent Tuesday night with Miss Louvilla Ison.

Louvilla Ison, Hassel Ison, Bill Shepard and Hizzy Carr Combs are attending school here from Larkins school, as their teacher is away on business.

Boyd Caudill, of Roxana, visited Miss Cuba Frazier on Friday night.

Mrs. Myrtle Caudill left for Morehead on Sunday, where she will enroll as a student.

Earl Ison, who has been in Lexington in a hospital, is at home again.

Roy Frazier was at Kings Creek Saturday on business.

Miss Jones, our assistant teacher, visited at the home of her parents over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Larkin Adams were in Whitesburg Friday on business.

Cuba Frazier was in Whitesburg on Saturday visiting her friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Ison and children visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Drew Frazier.

Rev. Howe to Speak at Methodist Church

The Rev. Howe, a minister connected with the Kingdom Come Settlement School on Linefork, will preach at the Methodist Church Sunday morning. His topic will be, "Home Mission Work in the Kentucky Mountains." As this is the closing Sunday of our kingdom extension cultivation period and offering, it is very fitting that we have such a message. The pastor will be present Sunday morning, and in the evening will preach from the subject, "When Jesus Came to Town." An important official board meeting will be held after church Sunday evening.

LOSES LITTLE DAUGHTER

Gertrude, sweet little 12 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Blair of Colley, passed away at the Kentucky Baptist Hospital in Louisville yesterday morning. She had been there for an operation and treatment of a brain trouble for some weeks. Gertrude was a bright and ambitious little school girl who was probably over-studious in her school work and it is thought overwork brought on her trouble. Since the operation in Louisville some weeks ago, but little hope for her recovery was entertained. The remains will be returned to Crafts Colly for interment. To the fond parents whose hearts are sore and to all the relatives and friends we extend sympathies.

R. R. Whitaker of Hallie was in to see us today. Before leaving his home Mrs. Whitaker said, "We can't live without the Eagle any longer so call and subscribe." And he did. Mr. Whitaker has long been a teacher in the county, but as between teaching and farming he chooses the farm. Not a bad idea.

Uncle Alamander Whitaker, Elihu Blair, Ice; Dennis Blair, Colson and Henry Adams, Jeremiah, were callers to get Eagle subscriptions or renewals.

GRETA NISSEN SPORTS LATEST PYJAMA MODE

Something different in pyjamas is worn by Greta Nissen in "Good Sport," opening at the Kentucky Theatre, Sunday, February 21, with Linda Watkins and John Boles in the feature roles. Made of bright, golden brown satin crepe, the blouse features a hip-length pleum and full sleeves held at the wrist with a band of mink. The trousers are full and carry a trimming of mink about the hem line.

Miss Nissen also wears a stunning negligee of Alice blue georgette with a blouse of broadened lamb and ruffle trimming on the sleeves and neck of pleated chiffon, the same fabric of which the very full skirt is fashioned.

A street suit of grey lightweight wool suiting trimmed with black is another attractive costume worn by the lovely greta. The blouse is form-fitting with raglan sleeves and cowl neck. A cape buttoned to each sleeve relieves the plainness of the back. A wide, black leather belt is worn at the normal waist line. The skirt is plain and features a series of gores. A small black hat, black gloves and black suede pumps complete the ensemble.

Minna Gombell, Hedda Hopper and Allan Dinehart are the other featured players in this film which Kenneth Mac Kenzie directed.

The screen play tells the story of a young and trusting wife who suddenly discovers that her husband is untrue to her. Rather than pursue the course that most women would, that of divorce, she hits upon the plan of finding out why she failed to hold her husband and discovers plenty.

LETCHER STUDENTS AT PIKEVILLE COLLEGE

The following students are attending school at Pikeville College this year: Alpha Hughes of Jenkins, George W. Caudill of Whitesburg, Lake Collins of Whitesburg, Cassie C. Quillen of Whitesburg.

IMPORTANT STATEMENT

In his pronouncement to the Board of Supervisors, which started its work last Monday, County Attorney Astor Hogg says:

"The present assessment of the county, as fixed by the Tax Commissioner, is in excess of sixteen million dollars. The assessment of the county has been that much and more for the last several years.

"In connection with my work I have given this matter serious thought. Without going too much into detail, I think the overassessment is upon real estate. I think the assessment on this year's property in the county should be reduced from the sixteen million and over, or whatever it is, to around eleven million dollars, and the reduction should be on real estate very largely. The taxes on this species of property are weighing too heavily upon our people and in my judgment are out of all proportion to the actual values."

In the above Mr. Hogg sounds the key-note of the present emergency. Had this key-note been sounded last February, as we contended it should, there might have been but three or four hundred delinquent taxpayers in the county instead of over one thousand.

Old Minister Called

Long has the name of Elder Wilson Church been heard in Eastern Kentucky and Southwestern Virginia. He was one of the last regular marks of the old order of Regular Baptist ministers in this entire section and had been preaching for over sixty years. Word of the death of this old veteran of the cross reached us a few days ago. He was nearing his eighty-fifth year at the time of his death. Only a remnant of this old class whose voices, trumpet like, once resounded so clear and distinct over our hills and valleys now remain. We recall only Uncle Dave Maggard and Uncle Ira Combs. There are others up close to these. They have fought a good fight, often amid criticism, often the objects of prejudice and abuse, but they have rushed on and gone on to their reward. We will probably never see their like again. May heaven continue to wave the banner of love over all these till their voices are hushed in heaven.

Mrs. Martha Jones, 88, widow of the late A. C. Jones and a sister to the late Col. L. H. Salyer, who lived in Whitesburg many years before his death, died at Norton a few days ago. She was a great aunt of B. F. Salyer of our city.

Why go over the seas into less than half civilized lands at an enormous cost of life and money to shield the more than $24,000,000,000 invested by those claiming to be Americans in foreign lands? Hadn't we better care for our millions of jobless and hungry at home? And yet we sometimes extol the greatness of our statesmanship.

From what we read in the papers it looks to us like Japan wants to back off from the bluff it tried to perpetuate on China. A graceful back-down would, in our opinion, suit it wonderfully and is alert in trying to get the other nations to call off the aroused Chinese.

As to date, the Kentucky General Assembly has passed no laws that particularly effect our end of the state. Hon. Zach Justice, of Pikeville, was retained as our member of the State Highway Commission. When anything that materially affects our section of the state happens we will say so thru the Eagle.

Native Letcher Young Man Dead

H. E. Polly, of Haymond, returned from Detroit with the remains of his son, Frank, who died of tuberculosis in that city a few days before. He was accompanied by S. E. Adams, of Fleming, who went along to bring the body home. Interment was made in the Sam Blair cemetery above this town. Frank Polly was about forty-two years of age and was reared near Whitesburg. He left some five or six years ago for Detroit, where he has resided ever since. Our county never produced a finer young man. He leaves a widow whom he married after leaving our county, his father and Willie, a brother. Besides these he leaves some half-brothers and sisters. We offer sympathies to all the relatives and friends.

OFFERS THANKS

I desire to say a word on the death of my late deceased brother, Frank Polly, who recently was called by death at Detroit. It breaks my heart to think of the parting, for Frank was to me more than a brother—a pal. No two brothers, it seems, could have been found closer together, but I hope to renew that union some day.

And I want to extend my heartiest thanks to those who loyally stood by us in our hour of grief and loss, and especially do we want to thank Eld Ben-net Adams for his consoling words and counsel at his funeral. To those who brought flowers, we also extend thanks. May heaven smile on all.

WILLIE POLLY.

ACT WELL YOUR PART

From all appearances the rural schools of the county are about to come to their end for 1931-32. And since we have done almost what we put our hands to do, naturally we ask ourselves just what we have accomplished. Have the children achieved very much worthwhile from their instructors? It is natural for students to desire to achieve greatness. This is especially true when the deeds and wonderful accomplishments of our national heroes, those who have gone on before, is laid before them. This surely makes them yearn to accomplish something too. In their inmost souls there is a burning desire for some opportunity for some display of heroism or strength of character.

We, as teachers, should all aspire to be heroes and immortalize our names for the admiration of future generations. But when we stop to think of our condition and environment as compared with those we seek to imitate, we are appalled. We see how far short we come of the standard of greatness the lives of great men have set before us, how much we lack in knowledge, position, wealth and power, and we tell ourselves that there is no success or honor to be won by us. Everything material seems to be against us and we are many times tempted to give up all our aims and ambitions in despair. But Pope says, "Honor and shame from no condition rise," and when we look into a few examples of those who have attained fame we see for ourselves what a great truth Pope propounded. Consequently, our surroundings and conditions do not make us either small or great. What is true greatness, and upon what does it depend? Again, I remember Pope says, "Act well your part, there all the honor lies." This means everything we do, not only the big things but the little things as well, to keep in mind whatever is worth doing is worth doing well, and to perform every duty as though the salvation of the world depended upon your work.

JASON HOLBROOK, Principal Thornton School, P.S.—Monroe Lucas gave an interesting program at Thornton school with "Kate and Joe" Saturday night. Everybody was pleased and welcomed him back again. Mr. Lucas says he will be glad to give his program at school or organization when called upon.

FARRELL AS NEW HERO TYPE IN 'HEARTBREAK'

The beauty and glamour of love arising from pain and misunderstanding mark the story of "Heartbreak." Fox romantic drama of supreme valor coming to the Kentucky Theatre Thursday, Feb. 18. Charles Farrell is the principal male player in this attraction, co-starred with Madge Evans, erstwhile child star of a few seasons back. Hardie Albright of "Young Sinners" and "Skyline" fame, Paul Cavanagh and John Arledge are all in featured roles.

A thrilling struggle in which Farrell unwittingly shoots the twin brother of his beloved, forms the dramatic climax of this picture which was directed by Alfred Werker, whoever he may be.

Kingdom Come Loses Heavily

Last Friday night at a late hour, Gloria Cabin, the best and costliest building and most important adjunct to the Kingdom Come Settlement School, was entirely destroyed by fire. Just how the spark originated that reduced the building and all its contents to ashes is not known, but those in charge are of the opinion that it started from a mouse striking a match. All fixtures and all the clothing of three teachers and seven of the students together with all the furnishings of the matron, Miss Hanson, was entirely destroyed. In fact, nothing inside the building was saved. All of the lives of the occupants of the building at the time were saved, some being severely scorched and burned. Miss Ethel Miracle and Duncan Hampton merely made their escape, some managed to get out from an upper story and on to the roof of the porch. Miss Miracle was dropped and caught by Miss Gladys Whitaker, thus probably saving her life. Those in the building when the alarm of fire was sounded were: Miss Miracle, Miss Fisher, Duncan Hampton, Hazel Ison, Ida Coats, Minnie Halcomb, Avis Cornett, Susan Whitaker and Gladys Whitaker. The least possible estimation on the loss is $5,000.

Some years ago when the neighborhood of the fire was far away from schools, churches or development of any kind, Rev. H. M. Frakes, of Pineville, saw the conditions of things in that neighborhood and its wonderful possibilities and with others started a movement to build a school and provide other modern conveniences. A number of good citizens of that community threw their whole souls into the movement and from that day to this the little settlement school on Linefork has been the mecca of light, morality and intelligence. The splendors of religious teaching and training has wrought wonders. Students from far and near, many with no opportunities at all, have knocked at the little settlement school, drank from its living fountains and passed into the realms of greater and nobler manhood. A great change was wrought. The moon shiner, if he plied his business, went away back in the hills to do it. The Sabbath became a reality; peace and happiness reigned in the homes and life took a nobler aspect. Today the loss, the awful loss to that fine neighborhood, could never be estimated in dollars and cents. There is wringing of hands and trailing screams and ruined hearts and homes on account of its loss.

Mr. Frakes, the man who dreamed and wrought its greatness, was in to see us today. He was the picture of gloom and sadness, but no despair was observed on his face. He will struggle on and so will all the teachers who have sacrificed their all for the school. Mr. Frakes said, "Tell your readers we have lost practically all. To start again we will need clothing, household utensils, beds, stoves, lumber, in fact, everything that can be given to put us on our feet again. The Lord has blessed our efforts in the past and we are looking for Him to do so again." Let not the efforts of this noble man and those who sacrifice with him go for naught.

County Atty. Addresses Board Of Supervisors

Gentlemen of the Board of Supervisors:

The County Judge has been very courteous in asking me to appear before your membership as you enter upon your duties and to make any suggestion or recommendation that I might think worthwhile. Not being able to be present, I am addressing this statement to be read to you.

In the main it is your duty to see to it that the assessments on the various kinds of property are as nearly equalized and non-discriminatory as is humanly possible. No taxpayer in this county, be it corporation or individual, should be made to carry any burden that does not befall other like taxpayers. In other words, every taxpayer ought to be on an equal footing with his neighbor. It is in your hands to fix the final assessment of this county for the present purposes.

There are many intricate and perplexing problems attending the present method of taxation, and it would be trespassing too much upon your time for me to go into detail concerning problems you will face in the work. I want to leave with you one thought, one suggestion, that I believe to be of paramount importance and which if carried into execution will go a long way toward correcting a situation that exists that ought not to exist and will bring great relief this year to the taxpayers of the county who are now struggling to exist.

The present assessment of the county as fixed by the Tax Commissioner is in excess of sixteen million dollars. The assessment of this county has been that much and more for the last several years. Certainly since the people of the county began voting "Road Bonds", and that was in 1922, as I recall.

We are all familiar with this unparalleled economic depression which is in our midst. The assessment of this county, which we have been holding to, was fixed when times were good, and when the property values were inflated. But we face a condition now where the property values of our county have diminished to such an extent that our present assessment is altogether out of line with the actual values, intrinsic and potential. THERE IS AN OVER ASSESSMENT. You can not get away from it. We face a condition and not a theory.

In connection with my work I have given this matter serious thought. Without going into too much detail, I think the over-assessment is upon real estate. I think the assessment on this year's property in the county should be reduced from the sixteen million and over or whatever it is to around eleven million dollars, and the reduction should be on real estate very largely. The taxes on this species of property are weighing too heavily upon our people, and in my judgment, are out of all proportion to the actual values.

Someone might say that we voted in this county in times past over $700,000 in "Road Bonds" redeemable over a course of years, and in order to retire those bonds as they mature the assessment as fixed at present must obtain, else we will have insufficient revenue coming in to retire the bonds, and if we fail to retire the bonds as they mature we subject ourselves to the embarrassment of a suit and judgment by the bondholders. From my study of the matter we may ultimately and probably will suffer a suit on these bonds some years hence. If that should happen, a way can be found to meet the contingency, but in no sense does that justify the present wrong in the exorbitant assessment. I believe that even if the present exorbitant assessment should obtain we cannot escape the fact that there will be a deficit for the payment of the bonds on the present basis. We are now facing with that condition a very year.

I admire the business man who meet everyone these days with a smile, who to all appearances is light-hearted, hopeful and optimistic. I know as well as though he had taken me back to his desk and shown me his statements that business has been on the down grade the past year. I know that many men who are in business, farming and the like, stand a good chance to see the savings of a life time swept away this year at an age in life when it is almost impossible to beat back. When I talk to men like this and they reveal to me a fine, high courage and an optimism and a faith, it bolsters up my own courage and I go back to my work with a feeling that I am not licked until I give up. I find when I have been thus built up inside that my problems lose much of their weight and a load of care seems to slip from my shoulders and I am more free to think and work my best. I do not suppose these fellow business men of mine realize that they have made a big contribution to me, but they always do.

Tomorrow is the birthday of another of America's greatest men. In saying this the inference is that Abraham Lincoln still lives. In the sense that the great never die, this is true. Obliterate such names as Washington, Jefferson, John Adams, all the Lees, Andrew Jackson, Roosevelt and Wilson from the catalogue of American life and our country would be dead. These names are the light and glory of our country and its history. In our opinion the last ten years has seen these great names ante-dated, shelved and no longer do our teachers hold them up to the youth of the land as examples. And even the Son of Man is gradually becoming a back number in the minds of a great many of our people. And in this there stands another evidence of our national decay. It is time to awake, if not already too late. Cut out the things that do not redound to national greatness and integrity and hoist high the banner inscribed with such names as mentioned above, and the glory of a once high national life will come back again.

Entertains

Mrs. W. D. Collier entertained the Woman's Missionary Society at her home on Main street Tuesday evening. Those attending were Mrs. T. P. Singleton, Mrs. Lon Blair, Mrs. A. J. Arrington and Mrs. Hall. We had as visitors Mrs. Martha J. Wright, Mrs. W. M. Quillen, Mrs. Carl Thorpe and Mrs. Stephen Blair. A delightful program was given. Refreshments were served and all reported a nice time.

Joseph Bolling, god citizen of the head of Cumberland and Jesse Bolling and Willard Sturgill of Flat Gap were in the city this week.

Mr. Hays, near seventy, formerly resided on the farm, died a few days ago.

This Famous Patriotic Shrine An Outstanding Tourist Attraction

Lincoln Memorial Near Hodgenville

This beautiful and dignified tribute to the Great Emancipator, which houses the little log cabin that was his birthplace, each year draws thousands of visitors from all the states and several foreign countries.

Not far distant to the northeast, is the famed "Old Kentucky Home" at Bardstown, and somewhat farther, to the southwest, is the wondrous Mammoth Cave, which before long will be the jewel piece in a great national park.

Kentucky is one of the richest states in the Union in the number of its historically interesting places and in the variety of its scenic beauty. Almost every county offers something worth while for the visitor to see.

Yet, compared with other states and the provinces of Canada, Kentucky gets only a very small percentage of the great and profitable volume of the tourist traffic of North America.

Why? The answer is that Kentucky has not advertised her wares—her historic and professional interest in Kentucky should support the Kentucky Progress Commission in its plan to go after the tourist business this year in a big, business-like way—first by advertising Kentucky's attractions to Kentuckians, and then by advertising them to the world. There is time to be lost.

California, Oregon, Washington, Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado, Wisconsin, Florida, the New England states and the Canadian provinces can testify to the value of the tourist business.

Organizations in those states advertise liberally in the newspapers and magazines to draw tourists because it is profitable to do so.

For instance: Ontario officially reports that 4,164,000 American tourists last year spent $125,000,000 while there.

Quebec reports that 1,261,000 American tourists spent $62,000,000 in that province. Wisconsin reports 4,009,500 tourists spent $111,000,000 in that state in a year.

Owing generally to unemployment and want of anything to purchase the necessities of life and living many are reported to be on the border of suffering and starvation in some sections of the country. And yet at least four of the scarce months are yet ahead. But for the wide-open, warm winter bestowed upon us by Divine Providence there would have been dire suffering and maybe starvation before now.

DR. MILES' Liquid NERVINE

All Wrought Up Over Nothing

Didn't sleep last night; too much work; the children are fretful; the Boss is cranky; Mrs. De Vere didn't invite you to her party.

Ordinarily you don't mind any of these things, but today they are simply unbearable. You are nervous, that's why.

Did you ever try Dr. Miles' Nervine? Just two teaspoonfuls in a half glass of water will quiet your over-taxed nerves and bring you a feeling of calm and peace.

Dr. Miles' Nervine is now made in two forms—Liquid and Effervescent Tablet. Both are the same therapeutically.

RELIEF OR YOUR MONEY BACK

THE RAILROADS HAVE MADE WITHOUT INTEREST A FIVE BILLION DOLLAR LOAN IN IMPROVED SERVICE

IF YOU made a loan, even a small one, and received no interest on your money, you would certainly feel that you had been treated unfairly.

The railroads of the United States have loaned the public the use of over five billion dollars, for which they have not received one cent interest in the past two years. Incredible as this statement seems, it is true. Read the following figures.

The Interstate Commerce Commission has fixed 5 1/4% as a fair rate of return for railroads to earn on the value of their property.

In 1922 the railroads had a total of $21,200,000,000 invested in property devoted to transportation purposes and earned, that year, 3.59%. Eight years later, in 1930, their property investment had increased to $26,300,000,000 but only 4% was earned on the 1922 investment. By 1931 the rate of return on the 1922 investment had decreased to 2.57% and the average for the years 1930-1931 fell to less than 3.50%. Yet, in the eight year period, 1922 to 1930, the railroads spent $5,100,000,000 for improved equipment and service. They are now rendering better service at less cost to you than they were in 1922.

In other words, the railroads have, in effect, loaned the public the use of over five billion dollars for two years, without receiving one cent interest on this vast amount.

This alarming condition has been caused by the present economic depression and has been further intensified by unfair taxation and competition from other transportation agencies.

You are vitally interested in the earning power of the railroads because of large holdings of railroad securities by life insurance companies, charitable and financial institutions.

The railroads must earn a reasonable rate of interest on their tremendous investments devoted to public use, if YOUR investments are to be protected.

This can only be accomplished by legislative relief from unfair competition and by increased railroad patronage.

You can cooperate by traveling on the steam railroads and by shipping your freight by rail.

The Railroads Must Earn To Spend

SHERIFF'S SALE FOR TAXES, 1931

By virtue of taxes due the county of Letcher and State of Kentucky for the year 1931, I, or one of my deputies, will on Monday, the 7th day of March, 1932, between the hours of 10 o'clock A. M. and 4 o'clock P. M., at the courthouse door in the town of Whitesburg, Letcher County, Kentucky, offer for sale, for cash in hand, the property listed below, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the amount of taxes due, including six per cent penalty, interest and cost of advertising. ($1.00 covering the cost of advertising, is included in each item.)

Order Creating A New Voting Precinct

It appearing to the satisfaction of the court that Lower Blackey voting precinct No. 47 is too large to conveniently accommodate the voters therein, and upon application and request of a number of voters voting in the vicinity of Carcassonne Community Center, on the waters of Bull Creek, who now vote at Lower Blackey voting precinct No. 22, Magisterial District No. 5, that it would be more convenient for the voters therein, it is ordered and adjudged by the court that a voting precinct be, and it is hereby established to be known as Carcassonne No. 51. A voting place shall be at or near the Carcassonne Community Center and said voting precinct shall be bounded as follows:

Including all of the waters of the head of Elk Creek down to and including the Oscar Dixon farm; thence with the dividing ridge between Elk Creek and Bull Creek so as to include the T. A. Dixon, Sr., farm, to the Perry County line, and with the Perry County line to the Knott County line, and with the Knott County line to the headwaters of Elk Creek.

It is further ordered by the court that the sheriff of Letcher County and the County Court Clerk shall cause attested copies of the above order creating a new voting precinct and changing boundaries in the above named precinct and designating a new voting place, to be advertised in one of the local papers for three successive issues and by proper advertisement placed in the new voting precinct to inform the public generally of the changes here-in made, as required by law.

Given under my hand as Judge of the Letcher County Court, this February 1, 1932.

Order Creating A New Voting Precinct

It appearing to the satisfaction of the Court that the West Ward Jenkins voting precinct No. 26 is too large to conveniently accommodate the voters therein, and upon application and request of a number of voters living on the waters of the head of Kentucky River and its tributaries, who now vote at the above named precinct, in Magisterial District No. 2, that it would be more convenient for the voters therein, it is ordered and adjudged by the court that a voting precinct be and it is hereby established, to be known as Fishpond No. 49. The voting place shall be at or near the new school house on the head of Kentucky River and said voting precinct shall be bounded as follows:

Beginning at Payne Gap and running with the divide between the waters of Elkhorn Creek and Kentucky River and including all the territory drained by the Kentucky River and its tributaries to the line marking the boundary between District No. 2 and Districts No. 7 and 8—that is, including all of the territory in Magisterial District No. 2 drained by the waters of the Kentucky River and its tributaries.

It is further ordered by the Court that the Sheriff of Letcher County and the County Court Clerk shall cause attested copies of the above order creating a new voting precinct and changing boundaries in the above named precinct and designating a new voting place, to be advertised in one of the local papers for three successive issues and by proper advertisement placed in the new voting precinct to inform the public generally of the changes here-in made, as required by law.

Given under my hand, as Judge of the Letcher County Court, this February 1, 1932.

Everyone who knows anything about the subject at all knows that the present assessment is too high. Individual taxpayers are being compelled to pay on assessments placed on their properties when the values of such properties were inflated, and when NOW the values on their properties are deflated and probably 50 per cent off.

No citizen should be made to pay taxes on his property, or rather on his assessment for more than his property will yield at a fair and voluntary sale. If the present assessment is sixteen million dollars and if the actual value of the property in Letcher County is eleven million dollars, and the inequality is on real estate, then the taxpayers of this county are being compelled to pay the State of Kentucky, not Letcher County, fifteen or twenty thousand dollars per year wrongfully.

SCHOOL GIRL IS RELIEVED OF PELLEGRA

GAINED TEN POUNDS

Miss Malva Brown

Miss Malva Brown, Clopslint, Ky., says: "For two years I suffered from Pellegra. My skin would turn red and peel off, my mouth was sore, my stomach would ache and burn and my bowels gave me a lot of trouble. All this made me very nervous. I had taken treatments, but nothing seemed to reach my case until I tried the Scaif Medicines. These wonderful remedies seemed to take right hold of my disease and in a short time I was feeling like a new person. My ailments vanished and I gained ten pounds in weight. I am now attending school in Tennessee but I still take Scaif's Indian River Tonic. It seemed to keep my nerves in such fine condition and my system built up in every way. I shall always be glad to speak a good word for this wonderful medicine."

Scaif's Indian River Tonic is for sale at the Passmore Pharmacy, Whitesburg, and by Neon Pharmacy, Neon, and East Jenkins Drug Store, also by all the Consolidation commissaries and recreation halls, and by all the Elk Horn Coal Corp. commissaries or write New Scaif Medicine Company, Harlan, Ky.

"I began taking Cardui when in a weakened, run-down condition," writes Mrs. F. S. Peritt, of Wesson, Miss. "I took one bottle, and I seemed to improve so much that I sent for six bottles. After I had taken the six bottles, I seemed entirely well."

"Before I took Cardui, I was nervous, restless, blue and out of heart. I felt depressed all the time. After I took Cardui, all this disappeared."

"I gave my daughter Cardui and it helped to relieve irregular..."

ly and without any justification therefor, with the citizens of the county getting virtually no benefit therefrom, aside from the fact that they are being made to pay into the county likewise many thousands of dollars more. There is no excuse for that. I do not believe it can be justified from any viewpoint. It exists at present and I believe we should work out our present status before delving too much into the future, though we should look to the future.

I recommend, to you, as County Attorney, and urge that the assessment of the county be reduced to around eleven million dollars and that the great bulk of the reduction be on real estate, and from that the taxpayers will receive marked and appreciable relief, which as I see it, they are certainly entitled to.

If you do this, as I see it is your duty to do, then it will be up to the fiscal authorities of the county to put into practice most rigid economy, stop every leak and tighten up as never before on expenditures.

or these, built Gloria Cabin once, and as stated above, having no such word as FAIL in their lexicon or almanac, they will build it again. They have seen and felt the glory of their past endeavors, they have seen the moonshiner's boy or the mother's indolent, thoughtless daughter transported into ambitions, aspiring and determined young manhood and womanhood, fit to adorn the highest position in life or reign supremely in the most dignified household. There is no sphere in life than can reach moulding, reality the making of manhood and womanhood. Let each rising sun see that log palace rise from its own ashes and ascend unto the pristine glory, into the azure blue of the hills of Linefork.

That Dollar! Have you one or its equivalent? What will it do? It will go further toward bringing to your home the bundle of groceries or other necessities of life than it has in twenty years. Prices have dropped so steadily lately that the purchasing power of the dollar, if you happen to have one, is now more than doubled. It is a good time to buy anything, especially the things that will last for years, for before long the present supply will end and naturally the price will go up. We repeat, it is a good time to buy. We emphasize this because what is for sale is down at least fifty per cent. Suppose the First National Bank in Whitesburg could buy government bonds at 50 per cent. It could not employ enough assistants to handle the business. Merchandise, real estate, automobiles and nearly everything else can be bought at one-half its value. Now let's you and me try philosophizing a little. We agree that everything is away down when we go to buy, and should not rents, salaries, lights, power, labor, water, attorney's fees, taxes, hair-cuts and shaves also be down? This done, ambition to strive on would rear up determined to meet the battles of life, money would start passing around again and the clouds hanging so dark and heavy over us would hide behind the hills. Help us get our backs from the walls, help us get our faces once again into the sunshine. Help us meet those we owe with a smile.

As has often been remarked in the Eagle, I hope no reader will get the idea that I am pessimistic. My pen has always been dipped in sunshine and pointed with the music of birds and the perfume of flowers. Often when this heart has been brooding I have tried to break away the gloom and float on silvery lined clouds. For years, in my ruminations, I have sniffed dangers to our country as a whole and local dangers at hand. From numbers of indications I have feared that we are slipping into a national and human decay, and that this is eating into the very pillars and posts of our government itself and that our boasted and far-named civilization was in grave danger of being swept into decay, even before we were aware of it. What are the signs of the times? Here we are in the midst of the worst financial depression the Western world has ever known. Financial experts, purported statesmen and those at the masthead of our ship of state have stated time out of mind that we were ready to kick off the awful dilemma and start flying again, but we remain fastened to it. With this the Government of the United States is facing the gravest crisis in all its history, with millions of its inhabitants without employment, without food, clothing and shelter. With this undisputed condition right before our eyes there is more mental anxiety in the United States over a game of bridge or something else, to our view, just as foolish, than all the physical suffering on the continent. Why, a brutal game of football takes first place in the minds of our should-be aspiring youth, unless it is a well stained set of fingers from the fumes of a "reach for a Lucky." And it is not all with the youths either, for we have men who ought to have more sense who will rush across a continent to see a man strike a ball with a stick and run. I confess I never could see anything out of the ordinary about that I am a firm believer in diversions. I would like to see and know that young America is to grow into great mental and physical strength, but I see no sense in a boy or man making a physical giant out of himself to the exclusion of mental, moral and human attainments. Why, the front pages of our newspapers, knowing the foolishness of thousands of our readers, are used to propagate this stuff when they could be endeavoring to solve the problems that are leading to our national decay.

Are our present day school boys and girls being really educated. That is, I ask with great solemnity, are they being armed and fitted to confront the great problems of life and living as they should be? In heaven's name we hope yes, but we fear not.

Reckless extravagance, burning gasoline, smoking cigarettes and ball playing makes up a great per cent of the schooling these days, and when our boys reach maturity maybe they won't know whether it was Daniel Boone who discovered America or Davy Crockett.

Now, don't call me a pessimist or an old fool, out of date, but if I speak the plain truth in plain words, pass me up as you please, but keep in mind that "truth crushed to earth will rise again."

Coffee Dessert Recipes

By Barbara Waring

THE housewife who prides herself on her desserts is always on the hunt for new ideas in the preparation of pies, cakes and puddings which will make them just a little different. Sometimes it is difficult to get a really distinctive flavor, for regardless of the other ingredients, when one of the old stand-bys—vanilla, lemon or chocolate—has been used, there is a certain sameness of taste. But there are other and less usual flavors which will add a touch of piquancy, and one of these is coffee.

Coffee-flavored delicacies are novel and appeal to all those who enjoy coffee—which means virtually everyone these days. The coffee will blend smoothly with most other ingredients and, in particularly rich dishes, will relieve excessive sweetness. Coffee for flavoring should be brewed double strength, that is, two heaping tablespoons for each cup of water. It should always be made fresh for each recipe.

Coffee Souffle Pie

2 tablespoons granulated gelatin
1/2 cup hot water
2 cups hot coffee
1/2 cup sugar

2 eggs
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup cream
1 tablespoon sugar

Soak gelatin in the water, add hot coffee and 1/2 cup sugar. Stir until dissolved and pour over egg

Coffee Rice Pudding

1/4 cupful unpolished rice
1/2 cupful sugar
3/4 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups milk
1 teaspoonful vanilla
1/2 cupful raisins
1/2 cupful citron

Wash the rice and place it in a well-oiled pudding dish. Add the sugar, salt, the extract, the coffee and milk, stir thoroughly together and set to cook in a slow oven, not more than 300 degrees F. Stir every twenty minutes for three times, then cover and bake very gently for an hour longer. Serve with sweetened whipped cream, with plain cream, or with caramel sauce.

Coffee Fruit Cake

1/4 cup shortening
1 cup light brown sugar
2 eggs
1/2 cup coffee
1/3 cup milk
1/4 pound figs cut in strips

Cream shortening, add sugar, egg yolks, coffee and milk. Stir together flour and baking powder and add slowly. Add fruit, which has been slightly floured, and fold in beaten whites of eggs. Bake in greased loaf pan from one hour to one hour and a quarter.
